Dear Lawrence,

I am writing to thank both you and your work force who managed to do the impossible in just a matter of days. As we gave your very short notice to provide a quotation and to get the skirting's cut and installed, I was very pleased that every effort was made to ensure that project was completed on time.

The photographs enclosed don't show the detail enough and how the whole area looks and the way the skirting adds to the overall effect.

Thank you again to your company for their dedication.
